

SPRING SPRUCE-UP!!

LAUNDRY ROOM RENOVATIONS

With the completion of the 2nd floor laundry room renovation, we have now transformed the 1st, 2nd, and 4th floors. Our goal is to have all eight floors rejuvenated before year end, so please be patient as we get to your floor. We think you will agree it is a huge improvement.

SPRING CLEAN-UP

With the unexpected mild spring we are weeks ahead of cleaning-up our grounds and flower beds. We promise you a spectacular spring, as our as many flowering trees blossom.

A NICE CORNER!

Check out the neat sitting area by the side of the building. We will be adding additional seating, some ground cover and we're extending the landscaping over to this side.

AN OPEN LETTER TO SMOKERS

To whom it may concern. We have had repeated recent incidents of cigar smells emanating from within the building. As a reminder to all of our residents, this is a NO SMOKING building! Those tenants who continue to ignore this rule will be subject to a non lease renewal! Please report any instances of noncompliance to the office. Please note the time, and suspect location. We will follow-up.

WHERE IN THE WORLD IS OUR ELLIE?

Ellie is recuperating from extensive shoulder surgery. He stopped by the office several weeks ago and is coming along wonderfully. If you want to send him a card, he'd love it:

TREE WORK IN PROGRESS

You may have noticed that we took down a large cherry tree in the back that was in very poor shape. If you are keeping score, we have planted 22 trees.

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.
